

OPPOSE CHICKS IN TUESDAY'S GAME

Chief John J. McCloskey Will Depend Upon Bill Thweatt Or Tiny Goodbred—Tribe Cops Opener by 4 to 1.

BY BOB FIGUE.

In an effort to even the series with the Chicks, Manager Dick Kauffman of the Atlanta Crackers will send Daniel Boone, an elongated right-hander, to the hill in Tuesday's game. The Chicks, Chief McCloskey of the Tribe will try to make it two in a row over the Atlanta Crackers.

It is ladies' day, and all fair fans are invited to attend as guests of the management. The gateway is corded for 4 o'clock.

CHICKS GET OPENER.

The Chicks jumped right in and grabbed the first game of the series Monday at Russell in the first round by scoring three runs. Johnny Buezo, a left-hander, late of the Auburn Plainsmen, did the pitching for the Crackers, and usually portends a hard for the Tribe to handle, but it proved the reverse in the Monday affair, as Johnny was easy when he meant runs. And the Crackers helped dig their own grave by some woeful fielding.

Dazzy Vance, he of the fiery looks, pitched for Memphis, and turned in the clearest brand of twirling that has exhibited in many days. He appeared as if he had regained the form that made him the most feared pitcher in the league during the early days of the 1920 season, and he had a hop on last one and a fast-breaking pitch that had the Crackers completely hypnotized.

The first round was uneventful for the Crackers, but the Chicks tried off the lid and scored three tallies, which were more than sufficient to sail away the game. Sloan singled to center, the starter and Lewis was hit on the leg by a pitched ball. Carroll tried to bunt twice, but failed, and then he tried to hit, which he did, by dropping into center that Mayer reached with one paw, but dropped. Sloan couldn't retain his knees. With the bases full and none out, McCloskey to Martin, who tossed Carroll out at second as Sloan counted. Lewis reached third on the play. McCloskey then headed for second and Powell soloed the ball. Sloan, the middle of center field, with Lewis registering and McCloskey reaching third, Griffin walked and Sloan second and Griffin hit a long sacrifice fly to Mayer, McCloskey counting after the catch. High bounced a high one to Mayer.

Vance was in trouble only once, the sixth proving his hardest frame. The Crackers filled the pillows with none out in this session, but garnered only one marker out of it. Sloan singled as a starter and Mayer dropped a single to left. Martin walked and the bags were loaded. Vance tried to join the ball, but fanned. C. High lifted a sacrifice fly to Griffin and Sloan scored. Sloan was not on the bag when the catch was made, but the umpires failed to see it and permitted him to score. Second baseman Lewis of the Chicks returned the ball to third and touched the bag for the double play, but Umpire Egan couldn't see it, as he didn't see Sloan when he scored without having been on the bag when the catch was made.

The Crackers never seriously threatened at any stage.

In the fourth the Chicks got another when Griffin doubled to left. Sloan cut an infield single trying a sacrifice. High rounded out and Mayer singled to center, Griffin registering.

Third baseman Fred Smith, of the Crackers, pulled the prize fielding play of the series in the seventh when he caught Dazzy Vance drive over third and then threw him out at first. It was a sensational stop and a throw.

Umpire Brennan had Orth Collins as his assistant on the right side, who has been named temporarily to succeed Umpire Hiram, who is reported ill. Orth's work was pleasing to both clubs and the fans.

ONLY THREE HILLMEN.

The Crackers are shy on pitchers, as Manager Kauffman hurtled a trio of Sheehan, Boone and Suggs. Thorburn is ill at home, and Morris recently jumped out.

Sloan Mayer, Cracker center fielder, was the only Atlanta to get more than one hit off Dazzy Vance. Sloan got two out of four. Only a half dozen were secured.

The Chicks bunched their hits, and batted them at the right time to coin runs. The Crackers got as many blows as Memphis, but they didn't come at the psychological moment.

Catcher Powell, of the Crackers, showed a weakness for foul balls. He missed two comparatively easy fouls behind the plate.

HIGH'S FATHER HERE.

The father of Andy and Charley High, Memphis and Atlanta ball players, is here spending a few days with his sons.

The senior High is a native of St. Louis, and says he has three more boys who play ball, one of whom is Hugh High, late of the New York Yankees, now out on the coast. The elder High is a great baseball fan, and is proud of his boys.

Frank Brazill, Atlanta's second baseman and one of the leading hitters in the Southern association, has gone to St. Paul of the American association in the deal whereby Atlanta got infielders Jack Martin and Fred Smith.

U. S. TENNISERS WIN.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 22.—All four Americans who played in the opening matches for the British lawn tennis championships defeated their opponents yesterday and were in no way extended during the contests.

The match between E. S. Garland of Pittsburgh and O. G. N. Turnbull proved the most attractive event of the day. With grinding weather for the duration of the championships, a crowd of about 6,000 turned out. The American colony was well represented and the English players had a most appreciative gallery.

A little royal is anticipated today when William M. Johnston meets J. C. Parker, who is regarded among the strongest English players entered in the present tournament.

COMPLETE FIRST ROUND.

NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—First round of the new tennis championship was completed here yesterday with Eastern Majors, Carolina Smith, W. M. Quillen, of Atlanta, Sidney S. Keeble, Nashville, T. M. Carothers, Chattanooga and Lewis Morrow, Memphis, among the visiting survivors.

Frank T. Payne, local left-handed player, sprung a surprise by defeating Vivian Manning, Greenville, in the first round, 6-4, 6-2. W. L. Carey, Greenville, withdrew his entry from the singles and the other Greenville player, R. N. Cleveland, lost to Manfield, 6-4, 6-2. Edmund Phelps, champion, and Henry Bruns, Carolina's champion, survived their matches.

CHANEY BEATS MURRAY.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 22.—Young Chaney, the Baltimore featherweight, outpointed Johnny Murray, of New York, in a 12-round bout last night. Chaney weighed 124 pounds and Murray 125-5.

Although Murray scored a clean knockdown in the fifth round with a short right to the jaw, causing Chaney to take the count of five, the men fought on even terms up to the seventh. In the eighth round Chaney took the lead and outpointed Murray during the remainder of the contest. Murray spoiled his good work in the early rounds by frequent holdings.

This pitched good ball but was weakened toward the end and was replaced by Morton, who held the Red Sox hitless during the last two innings.

HOLE WHERE GOLFERS WILL FIND TROUBLE IN TOURNAMENT

Here is the seventh green at the Memphis Country club, where the twenty-first annual Western Golf association amateur championship will be played next month. It is one of the club's sportiest holes and participants in this competition are pretty sure to find trouble coming to this green unless they are shooting straight. The hole is only 150 yards, but grass hazards and hollows around the green necessitate accuracy and precision in playing up. The green is undulating and very fast. The tournament will be held the week of July 12.

The SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

By Bob Figue

It seems that home cooking agrees with the Chicks, for as soon as they get back on friendly soil, they start winning ball games. They had a tough time while away on their recent trip, and were maltreated shamefully by the remaining teams. They left Memphis in first place, and came back with their heads bloody in berth No. 8. But a few points to the rear of the pace-setters.

In the two games the Chicks have played at home they have won both, and with any sort of pitching they will be able to get back in respectable company.

ARE SPEECHLESS.

Several of the Tribesmen have decided that it is wiser to keep their traps closed, for they have been fined so much of late that their pocketbooks look like an elephant has stepped on them.

There wasn't a word said either Sunday or Monday, and from here on out the Chicks are going to talk it out in thinking.

WELL BE ELIGIBLE TO PLAY IN A DEAF AND DUMB LEAGUE AFTER A WHILE.

Will be eligible to play in a deaf and dumb league after a while, said Polly McLary, Chick doorman.

DIXIE CARROLL, CHICK CENTER FIELDER, IS FINDING IT PROFITABLE TO BREAK UP BALL GAMES.

Dixie Carroll, Chick center fielder, is finding it profitable to break up ball games. He has received several money showers this season for hitting in the pinches, and will be in there every day trying to land the sale wallop.

HEYDOR CONGRATULATES

John A. Heydler, president of the National League and a member of the National Baseball commission, has wired President John D. Martin, of the Southern league, his congratulations on having the board of directors of the Southern league uphold him in his action in the Smith case.

EGGERS STARTS WORK.

Knockout Eggers, who is billed to meet Jimmy Murphy, of St. Louis, at the Southern Athletic club next Monday, has started training. He is a bit over the poundage that is to be made, but says he will have no trouble in knocking out the necessary avoirdupoise to enter the ring at the stipulated figure.

PROMOTER HAAK IS ARRANGING SOME

Murphy will reach Memphis on Saturday afternoon from St. Louis, and both he and Eggers will work out Sunday. Promoter Haaak is arranging some

Ruth Likes Home After Home Runs Says Mrs. "Babe"

MRS. "BABE" RUTH.

Yards and yards of dope about Babe Ruth, as written daily here, have been written in the tabloids. The man who is slugging his way to a new world's home run record. But this dope all about the home run and not the home side of Babe.

"Babe loves baseball," it's life to him. That is, it's half of his life. He says there's two sides to his head. One of them is for baseball and one is for me. I didn't question him about his heart, because I've never known any want on this score. I'm sure I have my share of love baseball and him enough to want to divide anyway.

"I don't think any man ever loved his job home and live it all during his life. Babe and I have been married six years and I love him. Babe's still of me, and I adore him. The dew's still on the rose for us, and the dew's still on the rose for us."

"As I said, we've been married six years. I was married when I was 16. Since then I was a little on the loose. Those years there have been four little babies. All have died. We have been through much sorrow together. Babe Ruth is as tried and true a husband as I am. He is a ball player. He never has failed me. There is something so boyish and appealing about him, too, as though it never was meant he should have any sorrow."

"When he is through playing ball my 'Hon' and I are going to buy a farm and raise cows and pigs and chickens. We love them. Neither of us cares for the city life, with its noise and its strife. Last winter we went to California and had world of fun. You know, Babe loves golf and fishing and football and tennis. He cares nothing at all for the indoor sports, and I am glad."

Charley Frank Only Friend Of Dixie Scribes

Charley Frank, president of the Atlanta Crackers, proved Monday that he's the only real friend of Southern league sport writers in the league. At the meeting of the board of directors of the league in the Casey Smith case, Monday, the directors voted on whether the doors were to be opened to the newspaper men, and Frank was the only one in the lot but one in favor of letting the scribes in on the proceedings. Tom Watkins, of Memphis, and Jules Heimann, of New Orleans, failed to vote, with the other five voting against it. It was a unanimous vote, and they had been led to believe that they would be permitted to sit in on the session, but they were unceremoniously given the boot by the directors. Had it been a session where the teams were to be boosted and an effort on the part of the scribes was needed to get people in the baseball parks, the scribes would have been welcomed with open arms, but when the directors had some real news to give out they hid themselves to a dark corner and closed the door in the face of the men who have done so much for the game in many cases more to keep the game going than any one of the directors.

S. L. DIRECTORS BACK UP MARTIN IN SMITH ACTION

Bob Allen, of Little Rock, Agrees to Keep Two Pitchers Out of Uniform Until Appeal to U. S. Court Is Made.

BY BOB FIGUE.

Bob Allen, president of the Little Rock Travelers, who tried to evict Casey Smith and Tom Seaton, a pair of pitchers retained from the Pacific Coast league to the season of baseball down the throats of Southern league fans, felt the weight of the road taken up his neck at Monday's session of Southern league directors, held in the directors' room of the Union and Planters bank, Allen saw the handwriting on the wall and realized that he didn't have a chance to get by with what he has been trying to perpetrate, and after the seven remaining club owners had voted to sustain President Martin in his action in failing to approve of Pitcher Smith's contract, Allen agreed to keep both Smith and Seaton out of uniform until the appeal of President Martin to the U. S. circuit court of appeals at Cincinnati was heard and the decision issued by Judge John E. McCall, of the U. S. district court at Cincinnati, was to approve of Smith's contract.

ALLEN CAPITULATES.

Allen capitulated to everything the directors wanted him to do, and apparently was willing to obey the wishes of the remaining seven directors, who were in the majority, to keep him in the Smith-Seaton matter. Before the meeting the directors were emphatic in their statements that neither Smith nor Seaton would be permitted to play ball in the Southern, and it was whispered about that some drastic action would be taken. But when they came together, it was decided to postpone further action until the appeal of the league president could be acted upon.
